July—Patriots & Pioneers

In July we have a lot to remember, both locally and nationally. In Utah we have two significant July holidays—Independence Day on the 4th, and Pioneer Day on the 24th. The library will be closed to remember and commemorate those significant days in our history.

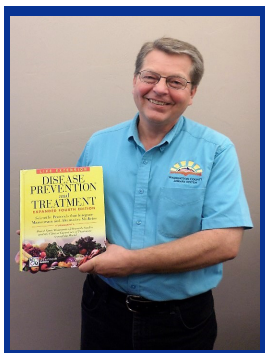

The library has a lot to remember, and be grateful for in our pioneer heritage. This includes the very foundation, and early establishment of library service in Washington County Utah. We can be numbered among the earliest legally established and recognized libraries in the State of Utah. From our recorded history, you may find this interesting:

“Almost before the people were settled and before they had any certain assurance of livelihood, they began to look for material for self-improvement...In 1864 the Utah Territorial Assembly passed an Act to incorporate the St. George Library Association...with all authority necessary to build and maintain or purchase for the library.... the pioneers believed in laying the right kind of foundation.... Here in the desert, far removed from the world of education, while enduring every hardship and without comforts or conveniences, almost without the necessities of life and with little assurance that they could make a success of their venture in this desolate and unattractive land, they began planning for a library through legal methods to insure their efforts a permanency that might not otherwise be achieved....Legend tells us that these pioneers raised funds for the purchase of books through produce which was collected as tickets for parties of various kinds. One quart of molasses was required as a ticket of admittance. This quart was placed in a sixty-gallon barrel until the barrel was filled, and when six of the sixty-gallon barrels were thus filled, this, with other valuable produce similarly acquired, was taken to Salt Lake City and sold or exchanged for books and other reading material. (taken from a history written by Roxie S. Romney in the 1940's, see: <https://library.washco.utah.gov/mission/>)

I mention these things so we remember some of the great things in our history, locally and nationally. We have the U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights, we have patriots and pioneers, we have much to reflect on. Remember July! “We’re blessed with the opportunity to stand for something—for liberty and freedom and fairness. And these are things worth fighting for, worth devoting our lives to.” —President Ronald Reagan. “Duty, honor, country. Those three hallowed words reverently dictate what you ought to be, what you can be, what you will be.” —General Douglas MacArthur

Summer Reading Sponsors “Color Our World”

The Summer Reading Program continues to shine as the most beloved initiative of our Library System, drawing in over 6,000 enthusiastic readers each year. This year’s theme, “Color Our World,” celebrates imagination, exploration, and the vibrant impact that books can have on our lives.

Summer is a time when reading skills can slip—what educators call the “summer slide.” But thanks to this program, we keep young minds (and older ones, too!) engaged, curious, and growing all season long.

But here’s the real story—None of this would be possible without the incredible generosity of our sponsors. Their support fills in where our budget ends, making it possible to offer exciting incentives that keep readers motivated—from coupons and gift certificates to prizes and special treats. These donations light up the summer with color and joy, just like the books our participants devour.

To our sponsors: Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Your investment in literacy helps build brighter futures for children, teens, and adults throughout our community. You are truly coloring our world with opportunity, learning, and fun.

We invite everyone to check out the sponsor list at your local library and, if you can, take a moment to thank these amazing community partners. Their kindness helps keep the pages turning all summer long!

Employee Spotlight

I am pleased to present Sheena Eaton as the employee spotlight for June

Sheena has been with the library now for a couple of years, and has been an invaluable part of the St. George Library team. Her dedication, reliability, and positive attitude shine through in everything she does. With a friendly smile and a strong work ethic, Sheena ensures the library remains a clean, welcoming, and safe environment for all who walk through the doors. She shows up to work with professionalism and grace. She's a behind-the-scenes rock star.

She says some of the things she enjoys doing include reading and music. She is an avid reader and participant of library events – which she is definitely passing on to her children! This year she has read 90 books from January to June, and still plans to double the score in the second half of the year. Moreover, she is a writer and just completed her first biography which is going to the publisher (congratulations). She is looking forward to July as an unabashed patriot, and person of faith.

Life is a balancing act for Sheena with a bustling household of five children, and a husband she loves. She cherishes spending time with family at home, in the mountains camping, or anywhere as long as they are together. Sheena somehow manages to juggle busy schedules and home improvement projects like her yard which they have been redoing. She is always up for a party, and in fact most of all she loves to plan events of all sorts. As you can see she stays busy and makes her time count with her husband, kids, and their beloved fur babies. She embraces the joys of family life with the same spirit she brings to work each day.
