

Message From The Director

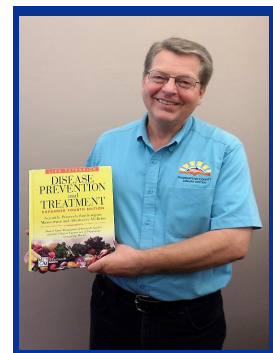

How Do You Measure?

Or how do you establish value or price for certain things? Is it external value or intrinsic value or some other measure? Now, in an effort to not get too far afield and diverge into the dismal science of economics, the key words for value would be: subjective worth, utility, scarcity, surplus, exchange price, and such. As we try to understand value, are there things which are beyond any measure of value? Could these include: curiosity, truth, action, freedom, character, nature, beauty, human life, agency, literacy, and such?

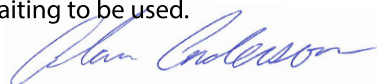

This is being written at the end of August and school is starting, Dolly Parton's passing was just announced, and September is always National Library Card Sign-up Month. As this is a library newsletter article, you may have guessed the direction already, or you may be saying how do you roll those three things into one topic? Dolly Parton wrote: "...Before he passed away, my Daddy told me the Imagination Library was probably the most important thing I had ever done. I can't tell you how much that meant to me because I created the Imagination Library as a tribute to my Daddy. He was the smartest man I have ever known but I know in my heart his inability to read probably kept him from fulfilling all of his dreams..." (see, <https://imaginationlibrary.com/letter-from-dolly/>)

The library has an adult literacy program that is confidential, one-on-one tutoring, materials provided free of charge. If you know someone that would fit into this program we would love to help. We are also working to see children are encouraged to read, and we have a "1000-Books Before Kindergarten" program with incentives and rewards to encourage reading.

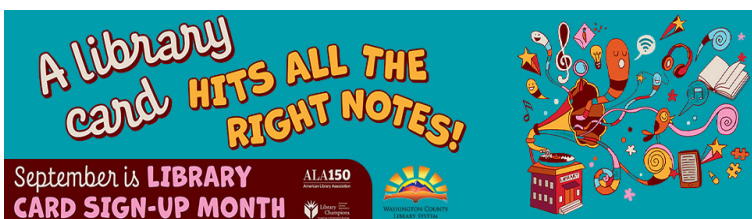

A child's journey toward becoming a confident reader begins long before they enter kindergarten. It starts with a bedtime story, a picture book shared at the kitchen table, or a parent and child laughing together over a favorite character. Every time we read with young children, we help build the foundation for lifelong literacy. Reading aloud with young children helps them develop vocabulary, listening skills, comprehension, imagination, and a love of stories. Just as importantly, sharing a book creates a special opportunity for families to talk, connect, and learn together.

So however you measure, whatever your age or stage, we are here at the library to help add value, so come and see us—if you know an adult who is a reluctant reader let them know we have a program and resources just waiting to be used.

A Library Card Hits All the Right Notes! Did you know that September is Library Card Sign-Up Month, and there's never been a better time to make sure you have a Washington County Library System card! Whether you're a lifelong reader, a curious kid, a busy parent, a student, or simply someone who loves discovering something new, your library card is your ticket to a world of possibilities—and it's all available at no cost.

Of course, books are still one of the greatest hits! With your library card, you can borrow books, audiobooks, DVDs, and more, but the collection doesn't stop on the library shelves. Take your reading with you through Libby, explore digital resources and online learning, or discover something new through our many programs and events for children, teens, and adults.

But wait—there's more! Your library card can open the door to makerspaces, technology, databases, 3D printers, telescopes, hotspots, GoPros, VR equipment, and other unique resources. You can learn a new skill, create something, explore the stars, connect to the internet, or simply find your next great story. A library card gives you access to resources that can help you learn, create, save money, and have a little fun along the way.

So this September, B sharp and get your library card! If you don't have one, stop by any Washington County Library System location and discover everything your card can do. Already have a card? This is the perfect time to dust it off and see what's waiting for you. A library card really does hit all the right notes!

Employee Spotlight

I am pleased to present Cody Blackner as the employee spotlight for August.

Cody has been with the library now for two years and has been an invaluable part of the Washington County Library System team, working as a New Harmony Branch custodian. His dedication, reliability, and positive attitude shine through in everything he does. He goes above and beyond what is required. He communicates concerning any needs for cleaning or building maintenance and just gets things done. We appreciate him and all he does to keep things looking good. He ensures the library remains a clean, welcoming, and safe environment for all who walk through the doors.

He has demonstrated a proactive approach to problem-solving which has been instrumental in addressing challenges and ensuring the facility remains in top condition, creating a safe and inviting space for both staff and visitors. He has the vision to see what needs to be done, and without hesitation he jumps into all projects. Whether it's addressing tough stains or ensuring the overall cleanliness of the library, his expertise has made him an indispensable team member. Not only does he clean the blinds but has fixed them on several occasions.

Cody is an outdoorsman and enjoys hunting. He loves gardening and landscaping and making things look better. Community service is part of his gig, and he does so by making small improvements in his spare time.
