

DONATED MATERIALS

You have chosen to donate materials to the Washington County Library System. We acknowledge your donation and thank you for your generosity. Upon receipt all donated materials become the property of the Washington County Library System and may be added to the general collection for checkout, added to special collections for use in the library only, sold, given to other organizations, or discarded.

Special Collections focuses on acquiring and retaining materials specifically relating to Utah and southern Utah history, Utah geology and geography with an emphasis on Washington County including the Arizona Strip, southern Utah pioneer histories and journals, and Native Americans of southern Utah. Books by local authors are also taken under consideration.
